

Biography Nique

Nique (real name Niek Pultrum), was born September 17th 1995 in the small town of Drachten in The Netherlands. His interest in music started at a very young age. When he was 15, he discovered electronic dance music and was inspired by artists such as Deadmau5 and Eric Prydz.

Through the years, Nique taught himself the art of DJing, improving his mixing skills through constant practice at local places during the weekends. Once he had perfected these DJ skills, he saved up his earnings and bought a proper production setup, transforming himself from a bedroom DJ into an artist with an unrivalled drive for music production.

2014 was an incredible year for Nique, with a strong array of shows at clubs and festivals alongside international DJ's like Quintino, Yellow Claw, Bassjackers, Sander van Doorn, Firebeatz and Chocolate Puma.

At the second quarter of 2015, Nique released his debut single "The Other Side", in collaboration with Canadian singer Delaney Jane and the Spanish duo Mark & Prince. Which received good support from Firebeatz, Ummet Ozcan, We Rave You, SlamFM and many others, it also hit the #88 position on Beatport Progressive House chart.

2016 is set to be a good year for Nique with more shows, more upcoming releases and even more big name collaborations.
